BEET SUGAR MEN PLAN TO FIGHT TARIFF REVISION

That free sugar will be bitterly opposed by the beet sugar growers and that if a free sugar bill is threatened an organized campaign of education will be carried on by the beet interests, is the news from Colorado. The Denver Post, in a recent issue, makes this authorized statement:

If a special session of congress is called to consider a reduction in tariff duties, Chester S. Morey, president of the Great Western Sugar Company, and a score of other leaders of the beet sugar industry of the West will go to Washington and conduct a campaign of education on the beet sugar situation to prevent, if possible, the passage of a free sugar bill or any reduction in the tariff.

The sugar representatives of the West are preparing a mass of statistics to present to congress to show the probable loss that would be caused in this country by the free sugar program of the Democrats. They believe that it would have a serious effect on the business and are going to do all they can to head off measures they fear would be harmful.

$20,000,000 Crop predicted for 1912. President Morey estimates that for 1912 alone the beet sugar crop in Colorado will be worth $20,000,000. There are 5,000 men at work in the factories and the farmers alone are to be paid $10,000,000 for their crops. It is estimated that the field labor to produce the crop will be paid $4,000,000 and the factory labor not less than $2,500,000 and probably $3,000,000.

"We don't know just what is going to happen so we cannot tell just what our plans will be," said President Morey. "If the United States senate is Republican, or there is a majority of its members against the reduction of the sugar tariff, of course it won't make any difference to us. If the senate is Democratic and the house as well, then we must act."

Are Waiting for Congress to Act. "We are running along in our normal condition waiting for announcement of the attitude of congress. We believe that common sense will prevail and that nothing will be done to injure the greatest industry in the West."

Sugar prices are now tending downward, and the officers of the Great Western Sugar Company figure a gradual reduction from now until May. The reduction is expected to reach the consumer. Raw sugar has been selling above 4 cents in New York for several weeks, but the placing on the market of the new Cuban sugar due to arrive in June has brought the price down to 3.6 cents.

RENEW PORTUGUESE AND SPANISH IMMIGRATION

Despite the extremely high price commanded at present by steamers under charter, which for several months has been regarded as prohibitive by the Immigration Board of this Territory, Secretary Kearns has cabled Raymond C. Brown, the immigration agent now at Cracow, Austria, Poland, to seek a charter anywhere, and obtain a vessel for two round trips from Spain and Portugal.

No reply to the instructions has been received as yet. The board has ascertained that several hundred Spanish and Portuguese families who have friends or relatives here, are anxious and prepared to come to Hawaii, and are awaiting the means of transportation. Because of the unsettled condition in the Balkans and Russia it is considered unlikely that efforts to obtain immigration recruits from that portion of Europe will meet with any degree of success for some time, so the Portuguese and Spanish immigration is to be renewed.

Dr. Victor Clark has cabled that he is coming homeward via New York, and his arrival here will complete a trip around the globe.
